Course Description

This course is an introduction to the use of accounting information by managers for decision making, planning, control, and performance evaluation roles. The goal is to provide students with a conceptual framework and the basic tools for identifying and resolving accounting issues faced by managers regardless of their background and specific job-related duties. This course is somewhat of a "how-to" course, introducing several generic management tools, procedures, perspectives, and issues that are basic to the management process. The course should be useful for those who intend to work as management consultants, and in general, for those who will become senior managers.

Course Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

By the end of this course, you should be able to:

1. Define and classify cost accounting concepts used by managers.
2. Calculate and analyze costs used by manufacturing organizations using various costing methods.
3. Distinguish between types of cost behaviors and investigate the relationships between costs, volume, and profit.
4. Understand how management accounting utilizes financial accounting information for the measurement of the performance of individuals and business segments.
5. Understand how standard costs are determined and variances are investigated.
6. Effectively use the understanding of management accounting principles to facilitate the analysis of information that is relevant in decision making.

Course Materials

Required Textbook: Whitecotton, Libby, and Phillips. Managerial Accounting, 5th Edition, (McGraw-Hill).

Canvas: The Canvas course website contains the critical files for the course, including the lecture notes and the solutions to practice problems. Students are advised to check the course website before every class for updates. The teaching materials are normally uploaded under the “Modules” page in Canvas.

Appropriate access to course materials is given for personal academic study and review purposes only. Unless otherwise stated in writing, the course content may not be shared, distributed, modified, transmitted, reused, sold, or otherwise disseminated. These materials may also be protected by additional copyright; any further use of this material may violate Hong Kong copyright law. Unethical sharing of course materials on commercial websites such as CourseHero is a breach of academic conduct. Students who violate this policy will be referred to the University Legal Counsel for disciplinary purposes.

Assessment Task	Contribution to Course grade (%)
Mid-term Test (Closed-book, Chapters 1-6, tentative)	30%
Individual Assignment	20%
Final Exam (Closed book)	50%
Total	100%

Individual Assignment

- There will be one individual assignment and it accounts for 20% of the final grade. Students are required to upload their take-home individual assignment on Canvas by the deadline. The details of the individual assignment would be announced in due course.

Mid-term test

- The mid-term test is closed-book. The coverage is chapter 1 to 6 (Subject to change). The detailed instruction will be given before the test.
- There is no make-up test for the mid-term test. If you miss the test due to extenuating circumstances, the weight of your examination will be re-allocated to the final exam.
- In case you wish to claim for extenuating reason for absence from the test, you must submit relevant proof, such as a medical certificate on or before the date of assessment. In this case, the weight of your test will be shifted to the final exam. Otherwise, you will receive a score of zero.

Final Exam

The examination is closed-book. The final exam date and details are subject to arrangement and would be announced in due course.

Mapping of Course ILOs to Assessment Tasks (Subject to change)

Assessment Task	Mapped ILOs	Explanation

Course AI Policy

The use of generative artificial intelligence tools to complete assessment tasks is prohibited.

Conduct of this Course

Teaching materials: Handouts on the Canvas course web (<http://canvas.ust.hk>). The teaching materials would be uploaded to Canvas prior to the lecture. You will be able to download copies of the slides and/or other documents used in this course. You will need to either print the notes and documents or bring your computer with the files. You are also expected to bring a laptop/tablet or rough work papers to attempt some problems together in class.

Practice Problems: A set of questions for each chapter are recommended for your practice. Practice problems aim to improve your understanding of and as practices for your assessment. You are strongly encouraged to do additional practice while preparing for the examinations. The solutions to practice problems at the end of each chapter will be posted on the course website.

Participation: Students are strongly encouraged to participate in class discussion, ask questions, and help each other through their questions, in order to promote an interactive learning atmosphere. Students are not penalized for saying something incorrect. You are also welcome to contact me for post class consultation during office hours or other time by appointment.

Feedback: Please do not hesitate to give feedback to me anytime during the semester regarding the course so that I may refine my instructional method accordingly if appropriate.
